HMQS

April 21-23, 2005

South Towne Exposition Center
Salt Lake City, Utah

HMQS is Preparing Now for Our 2005 Show!

The Home Machine Quilting Association is dedicated to promoting and improving the art of machine quilting. HMQS 2005 will emphasize all forms of machine quilting, including a quilt exhibit, vendor mall and quilting education classes. The first annual show was held in April 2004, and featured the expertise and knowledge of outstanding instructors.

In keeping with this standard of excellence, we cordially invite you to apply to be an instructor at the upcoming HMQS in 2005. Classes will be held Thursday, April 21 through Friday, April 23, 2005.

Just a few comments from class attendees:

"I really appreciated the fantastic quilt show and the classes. I am so excited to get quilting. I loved the classes and they were so much help to me,"

Lorna Jennings of Price, Utah.

"I just wanted to let you know how much I enjoyed the quilt show and classes. I learned so much, and can't wait for next year. I have even talked to people that attended just the show, and they are anxious to take classes next year. Thanks again for the wonderful show,"

Terry Steele of Pinedale, Wyoming
